Matcha-fication anxiety

Must show: choose one primary comment first, then add supporting comments only if the narration has room. Text is lightly normalized for readability; usernames and profile details are intentionally omitted.

1	"[Sticker] I remember in a restaurant a idk years back when matcha was so popularized, my Mom offered me a ube drink and I was watching people doing matcha asmr and I was always cunfused why ube wasn't as popular as matcha because it was very colorful and stuff like the only thing in my head that answered this question is "to protect someone's culture" and i guess my prediction came real "
2	"mas masarap talaga ube eh dapat siya Yung next sa matcha puro na Kasi matcha ng matcha"
3	"First matcha was gentrified and now ube"
4	"Nothing wrong with her layers. Milk is denser than matcha base, and that's what most stores do too, milk at the bottom. The only wrong thing she did is she didn't aerate the ube cream more so floats on top of the matcha (which she acknowledged in the video too)"
5	"we might have a shortage of ube if it truly gets popular similar to matcha"

Editor note: crop or blur usernames and profile photos. Keep this comment bank nearby while assembling the layered 9:16 sequence.